

DON'T DIG HOLES, BUILD SANDCASTLES INSTEAD.

Sand Safety Tips:

- Sand holes can collapse quickly!
- Avoid digging deeper than knee height of the shortest person in your group.
- Fill in all holes after you are done playing.
- Don't let children put sand in their mouths.
- Wear shoes on hot days to keep your feet protected.

In Memory of Sloan Mattingly (2016-2024)

Sandcastles for Sloan is a national beach safety initiative created in honor of seven-year-old Sloan Mattingly, who sadly passed away after a sand hole she was playing in collapsed on her and her brother.

Sloan was a light in the world, a sweet little girl who loved dogs and the color red. To honor Sloan's memory, share this message with your community.
